

Lab 2 Remarks

Matlab considers 1 by 1 matrix as a scalar whereas Julia does not.

$x = \text{inv}(A) * b$  is not very scalable

Fun Activity

We calculated areas by using triangles for different shapes, this finding of area using standard shapes of very small dimensions over multiple times is literally the foundation of calculus.

We are not going into depths of area question